

Cheating or Dishonesty on Test

The following are unacceptable behavior when it comes to the test:

- Using cheat notes (on paper or hands) during the test
- Looking over at another student's test during the test
- Talking to another student during the test
- Processing a copy of test beforehand

A warning will be given to the student when any of the above mentioned behavior is observed. If the student fails to stopping such conduct, the teacher and (or) proctor will take the student's test sheets away immediately. As a consequence, the student will get a "zero" on the test as final score, and no re-taking is allowed. Both teacher and proctor will sign the RACL Exam Report.